This opinion has been established on the basis of a translation from the original language into the following language _____, which is the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international search (under Rules 12.3 and 23.1(b)).

WRITTEN OPINION OF THE INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING AUTHORITY

International application No.
PCT/US04/30537

Box No. V Reasoned statement under Rule 43 bis.1(a)(i) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims 4	YES
	Claims 1-3, 5, 6	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims NONE	YES
	Claims 1-6	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims 1-6	YES
	Claims NONE	NO

2. Citations and explanations:

Claims 1-3, 5 and 6 lack novelty under PCT Article 33(2) as being anticipated by Hill (5,645,448). For claim 2, see Figures 1 and 3, wherein the structure of (38b) is considered to have mounting legs for positioning on opposite sides of the battery cable via rotation of the housing (attached cover portion).

Claim 4 lacks an inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) as being obvious over Hill. Claim 4 adds that a spare fuse be detachably affixed to the interior of the fuse cover. Hill does not specifically disclose such a feature. However, it would have been obvious to a rootineer, to include a spare fuse in the cover as a means to help the consumer restore electrical energy to the load in a situation to prevent the consumer from being stranded, thereby increasing overall safety of the vehicle.

Claims 1-6 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(4), and thus have industrial applicability because the subject matter claimed can be made or used in industry.
